BAD BREATH, LIKE A BAD CHARACTER

Brings Social Outcast and Suffering in the Keenest Degree.

Popularity is hard to gain—easy to lose. Keeping one's breath sweet and free from disagreeable odors is paramount. Dyspepsia and indigestion bring social ostracism. Even sincere friends cannot conceal their aversion if your breath is foul.

Bad breath is the inevitable result of stomach trouble—indigestion and dyspepsia. RECALL DYSPEPSIA TABLETS are a quick, pleasant cure. One tablet relieves the condition. The use of this wonderful remedy for a few days will cure the most objectionable case, and make the breath sweet and pure.

"I SUFFERED FOR MANY YEARS." "It gives me great pleasure to testify to the merits of RECALL DYSPEPSIA TABLETS. I have suffered for years and years with dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I was bothered with a sense of fullness after eating, with distressing heartburn, and general weakness, accompanied by bile breath and gnawing pains in the region of the heart. After taking one box of RECALL DYSPEPSIA TABLETS I found great relief and am now fully cured. I can heartily recommend RECALL DYSPEPSIA TABLETS to all who suffer with dyspepsia."—THOMAS HAWKINS, 227 E. Second St., Dayton, O.

We guarantee RECALL DYSPEPSIA TABLETS. Try them. If you are not more than satisfied, we will cheerfully refund your money. 25 cents for a full-sized package. Only at our store or by mail.

KITCHEN BRUSHES.

They should be numerous and should be properly kept.

Every kitchen should be liberally supplied with brushes. There should be a scrub brush for the vegetables, a larger scrub brush for the floor and one for the sink and another for the stove.

A long handled, soft, broad paint brush will be found a great convenience, as it can be used for dusting cupboard drawers and shelves. A narrower, smaller soft brush should be kept for brushing flour from biscuits, cookies, pies, etc.

What to do with the brushes is an other question which haunts the careful housewife. If they are left in the sink they are always water soaked; if they hang against the wall their dripings leave ugly streaks upon the woodwork; if they are thrown promiscuously into a drawer they are likely to make a sorry looking drawer. For keeping the stove brush and the other scrub brushes for cleaning purposes a zinc lined drawer six or eight inches deep can be fitted under one end of the sink. The zinc drawer can be kept clean and wholesome, as it can be washed frequently and after a wash will be as clean as if new. For the softer brushes those used in freeing the food from flour crumbs and those used in cleaning vegetables an ordinary wooden drawer will suffice. It is always well, however, to line all drawers in which are kept articles used about the food with clean wrapping paper, which can easily be removed frequently and replaced.

CARE OF THE PIANO.

The Way to Bleach the Keys When They Become Yellow.

Many people who keep their pianos carefully closed find that the keys become yellow. Because dust is injurious to a piano it is a common belief that the piano should be closed when not in use. This is a mistake. The majority of pianos made today are constructed so that dust cannot easily penetrate them even when they are open. Keys turn yellow from lack of light, and a piano should be open the larger part of the time.

There is nothing like strong sunshine for bleaching yellowed piano keys. Rub the keys with powdered pumice stone, moistened with water, and then draw the piano up before a sunny window while the keys are still moist. The woodwork of the piano should be carefully covered. This bleaching is a slow process and may need to be repeated several times before the keys assume their original color.

Some housekeepers have bleached the keys of their pianos to a beautiful white by simply letting strong sunshine rest fully on them hour after hour and day after day.

Bees Eaten to War.

There are at least two recorded instances in which bees have been used as weapons of defense in war. When the Roman general Lucullus was warring against Mithridates, he sent a force against the city of Thermopyra. As they besieged the walls the inhabitants threw down on them myriads of swarms of bees. Those at once began an attack, which resulted in the raising of the siege. These docile little insects were also once used with equal success in England. Chester was besieged by the Danes and Norwegians, and its saxon defenders threw down on them the bees of the town, and the siege was soon raised.

Times Have Changed.

Once upon a time a superstition existed that a lady ought to blame her self if a man whom she did not intend to accept proposed to her, but that, should such an unpleasant incident occur, it was at least not to be made a subject of gossip among her acquaintances. Parents thought it incumbent upon them to let a man understand in time if they did not wish him as a son-in-law. It is needless to remark that such honorable evidence and kindly prudential advice are quite out of fashion.—London Standard.

CONDENSED MILK.

Its Discovery Was Brought About by Woman's Experiment.

"How and when was condensed milk discovered?" said a milk dealer. "Well, that is an easy question, known to all vendors of the article."

"It chanced that in 1854 the journey from New Orleans to New York was a considerable trip. A certain lady, Mrs. Albert Cashingor, had a sick baby, and on account of that condensed milk was discovered."

"Mrs. Cashingor's baby was so ill that she realized that it would be necessary to make a trip to New York to receive expert medical attention if she hoped to save the child's life. First to travel that long distance the child had to have milk. Milk wouldn't keep fresh more than a few hours. So there she was, kept back from making the trip merely because she could not supply the child with fresh milk."

"In her despair she began to experiment to see if she could not preserve milk the same as she did jelly or anything else. She tried several different methods and finally hit upon a plan which seemed to give satisfaction. So she preserved several big jars of the stuff, put it upon a sailing vessel and made the trip. The child fed upon the milk and was nourished."

"In New York several men learned of her discovery. They tried to make some of the condensed milk in the manner that she had told them, but failed. They followed her to New Orleans, and there she unwittingly unfolded her valuable secret. On the island of Galveston these men started a small factory, and there the first salable condensed milk was made."

"The woman died poor. The manufacturers made a fortune. Now condensed milk is sold in every part of the world."—Louisville Herald.

A TOBACCO LEGEND.

The Story of the Way in Which Man Obtained the Weed.

An ethnologist tells an interesting story as to how tobacco was first obtained by man, according to the traditions of the Menominee Indians:

"One day the god hero, Manabozo, was on a journey, when he perceived a delightful odor. It seemed to come from a crevice in the cliffs high up on a mountain side. On going closer he found a cavern which was occupied by a giant. In fact, the giant was the tenant of the mountain, and from the mouth of the cave a passage led down into the very center of the hill, where there was a large chamber. Around the chamber were stacked and piled quantities of bags filled with curious dried leaves. From the leaves proceeded the delicious fragrance."

"These leaves were tobacco. Once a year, the giant explained, all of the spirits came to the mountain for the purpose of smoking this exquisite weed. But it was impossible to fire any of it away," said the ethnologist. "Nevertheless, Manabozo watched for an opportunity and, snatching up one of the bags, fled, closely pursued by the giant. The thief leaped from peak to peak, but the giant followed so fast as to finally overtake him. So Manabozo turned upon him and, upbraiding him for his audaciousness, transformed him into a grasshopper."

"That is the reason why the grasshopper is always chewing tobacco. Manabozo took the bagful of leaves and distributed them among his friends, the ancestors of the Indians of today. Since then they have had the use and enjoyment of the plant."

First Done at Fontenoy.

The Black Watch distinguished itself at Fontenoy by a mode of warfare which at the time surprised both friend and foe, but has since become a recognized maneuver. Unable to get at the French infantry, who were strongly entrenched, and being therefore incapable of using their formidable broadswords with effect, the Forty-second highlanders, after marching to the ground to the music of their own bagpipes, to take up a position, fired a volley and then "clapped down at full length on the ground to let the enemy's shots pass over them." The only exception to this prone attitude was the colonel, Sir Robert Monro, who was so fat and unwieldy that, had he lain down, it would have required a lever to lift him again.

COSTS NOTHING UNLESS CURED.

A Fair Offer Made By Sturm & Co. to All Sufferers From Catarrh.

Sturm & Co. are selling Hyomei on a plan that has caused considerable talk among their customers.

The plan is different from that followed by other remedies, but the remedy itself is different also. This treatment for the cure of catarrh has such an unusual record of cures to its credit that Sturm & Co. offer to refund the money if it does not give the desired benefit. This is certainly one of the fairest offers that can be made and any one who has catarrh and does not take advantage of it is doing himself or herself an injustice.

Do not suffer any longer with tickling, smarting, burning, eye-watering troubles that afflict those who have catarrh. Hyomei will cure you, but if you should not find it adapted to your case, Sturm & Co. will return your money.
